Preparedness Guarantee Of Peace

Legion Told Lack Of "Rational Defense" Surest Way To Bring Nation Into War

"Nations hear words and shrug their shoulders. Nations see ships and men, bases and equipment, and think twice," said Captain James L. Blake, speaking before the Sierra Madre American Legion post Monday night on "Rational Defense."

Captain Blake pointed out that the best way to remain at peace is to make it emphatically clear to the rest of the world that we are strong enough to defend ourselves — if the need should arise.

Tracing the history of the peace movement, Captain Blake disclosed that in the past 3,500 years only one of 12 years has been free from war. In the 160 years of our national existence, Captain Blake declared, only one year in eight has been a complete peace year. This is paradox, for though the soul of man yearns for peace, he is undoubtedly a fighting animal as these figures indicate, he said.

"Many people object to adequate national defense on grounds of expense," said Captain Blake, "but we now spend about the same amount for chewing gum as we do for national defense. In fact, last year the City of New York spent more on its police department than the government did on our air force."

Further pointing out that the United States spent less on her defense budget than any other country, Captain Blake compared the 7-3/10 per cent of our budget used for defense against the 50 per cent of the Japanese budget employed for that use, and the 22 per cent of Britain's budget.

"Now," said the Captain, "is the time for us to show the world that we are prepared to defend ourselves. Because we want a strong navy to be able to throw a protecting line about us—does that mean we want war? It means that we do not want war. If we want war just let us sit back and do nothing; let our national defenses become weak, our Navy obsolete, our equipment out of date, and our man-power inefficient. Then it will come soon enough!"

Plan Safety If Storms Strike

Meeting Tonight To Suggest Flood Control Plans To Avoid Future Disasters

Citizens and officials of 30 cities and towns of the 47th, 48th and 49th legislative districts will meet tonight at the Emerson school, Colorado street and San Gabriel Blvd., Pasadena, to discuss flood control methods that will insure greater safety when severe storms break. Sierra Madre will be represented by Business Manager Al Myers and members of the city council.

Representatives of Glendale and San Fernando valley towns are said to be coming in with a definite flood control program covering the foothill area generally and their section particularly. Nearly every community will have some preventative measure to suggest in the light of damage it suffered during the storm that began February 28 and that brought disaster to many sections. An effort will be made to have many of these plans incorporated in a program being prepared by the county supervisors in the carrying out of which the State will be asked to cooperate in a big way.

A definite project affecting Sierra Madre and Arcadia and calling for an expenditure of more than $4,000,000 has already been approved by county engineers but held up for lack of funds. This city's representatives will strive tonight to have it included in any proposals or recommendations that may be made.

The meeting is open to the public and the principal speakers will be E. B. Latham, 49th district assemblyman who also represents this district at the recent special session of the legislature; Miss Eleanor Miller, of Pasadena, representative in the Assembly of the 47th district; Carl Hinshaw, of Pasadena, candidate for Congress from this district; and G. L. Kelley of Lamanda Park, representing the State Chamber of Commerce.

It is expected to be largely in the nature of an experience meeting, each community reporting on the lesson it learned during the storm.

Great Comedy Will Be Presented By PTA On April 1

George M. Cohan's hilarious comedy "The Tavern" will be presented Friday, April 1, at the Sierra Madre grammar school by the Sierra Madre P.T.A. with an all-male cast composed of fathers from the Webster School Father's Forum.

The curtain rises at 8 p.m. on the comedy, which has been presented all over Southern California and met with instantaneous success, and which is under the direction of Mrs. Edna Stearns Dayton.

Mrs. Ruth B. Irish and Mrs. Dan Lewis head the committees in charge of arrangements.

Screen Stars Convulse Big Crowd

Sierra Madre Roars Its Applause At Finest Show Ever Given Here

Overwhelmingly acclaimed the "best yet" was the benefit show staged by Pat West for the Veterans of the Foreign Wars Flood Relief fund Saturday night at the grammar school auditorium where such bright stars as Leon Errol, Hugh Herbert, Dick Foran and a host of others shed their lustre.

With every inch of available space jammed with enthusiastic people the show was a big success from the time Jack Shearer, local band leader and well-known musician, opened the show by playing difficult numbers on his harmonica.

Hugh Herbert and Ernie Stanton played a scene from their newest picture, as yet unnamed, and brought down the house with their goofy comedy.

A fast-stepping toe number by pretty Eleanor Graham in a "top-corn" and little blonde Nina Mae Cox, all of four years, who swayed her tiny body in a hula and tied herself in knots in an acrobatic number with the utmost aplomb, pleased the audience and drew a big hand.

Brightly scintillating were the four Hughes children, two boys and two girls, ranging in steps in size, with the two handsome boys in between and a girl on either end, whose clever dancing and singing would do justice to adult performers.

Leon Errol, former Ziegfeld Follies star definitely proved that his legs had lost none of their elasticity, and the difficulties of a drunk trying to stamp and mail a letter proved so hilarious that it stopped the show.

Dick Foran, western picture star, proved he could croon as effectively as he could rope and tie a steer or dive over a cliff to rescue a maiden when he sang "My Little Buckaroo." The composer of the piece, Moe Jerome, accompanied him.

A snappy soft-shoe dance by Carl Randall was encored several times before the audience would let him go, and Mitchell Lewis, old-time cinema favorite, recited an Irish poem that was much appreciated. "The Missing Brothers" proved to be all there and then some in their difficult acrobatic act that was one of the hits of the show, the convolutions of the pair were screamingly funny, and if the reaction of the Sierra Madre audience was a criterion they should prove outstanding hits on any stage.

Louis Mosconi, agile ex-Follies dancer and his seven pretties were the "bit of sweet" that ended the show and Mosconi provided a smashing finale with his dervish number.

Other performers who pleased were Frank Vishell with his brilliant accordion playing; Marilyn Carroll singing "hot and blue" songs; Evelyn Patterson in a tap number; Jon Dale, crooner, from Ben Bard's playhouse, with Jack Stern at the piano and Barry Bernard and Bebe Brennan in a skit entitled "Don Caballero Rides Again." Last, but by no means least, was Malcolm Beelby, musical director, who pointed up the show by his clever timing.

An outburst of applause followed Pat West's request for a vote of thanks to the city administration for its fine work during the storm and flood. Pat himself received an ovation for his work on the show.

300 Young Japanese Hold Convention Here In April

Sam Hohri of West Los Angeles, former well-known and well-liked Sierra Madren, was a dinner and overnight guest of Rev. and Mrs. S. R. Sheriff of 355 N. Auburn avenue on Tuesday. Sam is in town arranging details for the forthcoming Japanese Young Peoples' convention to be held here April 8, 9, and 10th. About three hundred young people are expected to attend from all over Southern California.

Weakness Of This Nation Shown

Noted Educator Points It Out At Brilliant Patriotic Celebration Here

"The most significant weakness of the American people today is irresponsibility," declared Vierling Kersey, superintendent of Los Angeles Schools, speaking at a patriotic program in the school auditorium Wednesday evening.

"There are lots of people whose whole ideal in life is to do as little as they can," Mr. Kersey stated, "and we have children in our schools who use only 35 per cent of their actual ability."

Mr. Kersey pointed out that unless the parents cooperate with the schools in teaching the American child to accept responsibility the "weakest generation of all time" may be turned out.

"It's hard to get children to accept responsibility nowadays, but just because it's hard is no reason it should be given up," Mr. Kersey reminded.

Advising parents to develop a program of recreation with their children in which the whole family may participate, Mr. Kersey warned that the parent's cooperation must be given to the educators "not to make their job easier, but for the benefit of the boy or girl."

The only way American institutions can be preserved today, Mr. Kersey believes, is by educating children to stand on their own feet and "think things through" in order to be able to resist the mass of propaganda assailing their eyes and ears.

"We must fight to preserve the institutions that have made us the outstanding country in the world," appealed Mr. Kersey. "We teachers will do our part by re-educating, re-affirming our assignments of teaching loyalty to these institutions—the same that have made us the envied nation of the world."

J. O. Smith presented the speaker. Miss Elizabeth Steinberger welcomed the speaker on behalf of the school.

The six tableaux, depicting momentous scenes from our country's history were well-costumed, smoothly timed and showed the time and effort spent by the teachers and children in their preparation.

The first tableaux was a scene from the Spanish court showing Columbus accepting jewels from Queen Isabella. The curtains swept aside to disclose George Washington mounted on a white horse. "The Spirit of '76" and "Lincoln" revealing the great emancipator with the freed slaves which was much applauded. The final tableaux was "America for All" showing Columbia and Uncle Sam, Lincoln and George Washington, and children representing states and territories.

Little Billie Murphy made a curtain speech of welcome before the tableaux that was a masterpiece of poise.

The Harmonica Band, each member smartly uniformed in white with a cap and band across their chests, marched in soldierly fashion onto the stage and played "My Country 'Tis of Thee," "Anchors Aweigh," and "Stars and Stripes Forever" under the direction of their teacher.

The sixth grade sang a patriotic air as a musical background to the tableaux, and both the singers and the band showed the result of much coaching and thoughtful practice.

The program was presented as a feature of Sierra Madre's observance of the Sesqui-Centennial celebration of the signing of the U. S. Constitution and was arranged by the local Constitution committee.

Forum Will Resume Regular Schedule Next Tuesday

Bruce Johnson has announced that he will discuss "New Political Alignments" at next Tuesday evening's forum meeting. This speech was scheduled several weeks ago but was postponed to allow candidates for council to be heard.

Pet Owners Told Worst Yet To Come

Necessity Requires Even More Strict Enforcement Of Rabies Quarantine

Owners of dogs and other pets affected by the rigid State rabies quarantine who have been clamoring for a modification of the regulations were practically told yesterday that the worst is yet to come and that beginning April 5 the quarantine will be more vigorously enforced than ever.

A statement issued by the county health department said that an opportunity had been given the public to familiarize itself with the regulations during the last 10 days and that many infractions of the rules had been overlooked, but that health officers throughout the county had been notified to tighten up and after April 5 all who disregard the quarantine will be fined, the dogs or other pets seized and poundage fee of $2.50 exacted of the owners.

Traffic Offenders Draw Fines In Local Court

Two traffic violators felt the heavy hand of the law this week and paid fines in Judge T. W. Neale's police court, Monday morning.

Robert Phillips, driver of the car that struck Harry Lacey, March 12, on East Sierra Madre Blvd. severely injuring him, drew a $5 fine for speeding.

The other person also drawing a $5 fine was E. H. Bowles, P.E. bus driver charged with trying to pass a car on the right. The car in question was driven by Warren E. Craig of the Sierra Madre Tailors who was driving on West Sierra Madre Blvd. Craig's machine was damaged when he turned into the curb to avoid a collision. Both Phillips and Bowles reside in Pasadena.

Beautiful New Home To Be Built

Big Spanish Residence Going Up At Fairview And Michillinda Blvd.

Sierra Madre is to have another beautiful residence. Permit was issued Tuesday by William Lees, building inspector, to start work on a $22,000 dwelling for R. P. Jennings, of 808 Security Bldg., Los Angeles. The building is of modified Spanish architecture containing 13 rooms and 5 baths. It will be erected on an 80 foot lot—considered one of the loveliest in the city—at 410 North Michillinda Blvd., at the corner of Fairview avenue, adjoining the estate of Herbert Hoover, Jr.

Among the interesting features of the dwelling will be a large billiard room, library and sun porch. In front and back of the house will be concrete terraces overlooking the gardens.

W. S. Gebb has taken out a permit for a house and garage at 299 1/2 West Grand View avenue. Other permits issued are for a garage for Mrs. W. J. Lawless to be built at the Wistaria Vine and an addition to the residence of R. H. McCullagh, at 154 East Montecito avenue.

L. F. Pierson, 635 Canyon Crest, took out a permit to build a work shop; C. H. Hagey, 693 West Grand View, for home alterations; A. Ryan, 503 West Montecito, new roof; F. P. Conard, 33 West Mira Monte avenue, re-roof; Al W. Miller, Auburn and Grand View avenues, roof, and Miss Daisy Hawks, 111 East Montecito, roof.

Wistaria Glorious

By Mary Ward

Upon its trellises endlessly reaching,
Wistaria's lavender trails its rare bloom;
Gracefully growing in sunlight and shower
While lavishing largess of petal perfume.
The lesson it teaches us mortals is priceless;
Dauntless it blooms in defiance of time.
Many a year it has graced our green hillside.
Yet poets extoll its perfection in rhyme.
Sierra Madre, March 24, 1938

Gay Program At The Fete Saturday

Artists To Appear In Colorful Setting For Benefit Of Flood Sufferers

Girls in filmy, floating frocks rivaling the flowers in beauty . . . music . . . art . . . and over all the delicate blooms of the wistaria creating a canopy of beauty is the picture that will greet the eyes of the visitors to the Wistaria Fete tomorrow (Saturday). It has been set aside as Flood Relief Day.

Five of the city's prettiest girls will serve as pages to Miss Zoa Dell Lantis, Paramount starlet, and guest of honor. Miss Lantis was the "theme girl" of the Golden Gate Exposition and won the title "most publicized girl in the world" while carrying on her work in advertising the coming fair throughout the nation. She will pose for a sketch by Ludwig Madsen, distinguished Swedish artist now residing in Hollywood. The sketch will be auctioned off for the benefit of flood sufferers.

Miss Roberta Hughes, former Hollywood Bowl singer and herself extremely pretty, and James March will sing light operatic numbers and light ballads in keeping with the flower atmosphere. George Miller, concert pianist, will play, and Perry Brown of Hollywood, and Jack Young of Los Angeles, will share honors as emcees.

Pages will be Misses Julia O'Grady, Martha Sharp, Patsy West, Grace Jensen, Hazel Banks and Harriet Bacon.

As the cameras of a score of newspaper and news reel photographers clicked, dainty Cheryl Walker, 1938 Rose Tournament Queen, now a Hollywood starlet, snipped the lavender ribbon stretched across the main entrance of the Wistaria Vine Gardens and declared the 18th Annual Wistaria Fete open Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Mary K. Wooley, president-emerita of Mt. Holyoke College, listed as one of the ten greatest women of the country, awaited the opening ceremonies and smilingly posed with Miss Walker before an alumni luncheon held in the dining pavilion of the Gardens with more than a hundred women present.

Following the opening ceremonies Miss Walker assisted in planting a small incense cedar seed by the Forestry Department honoring the late Stephen T. Mather, father of the national park service who passed away in 1930.

Man Is Sentenced To 30 Days In Jail For Drunk Driving

Russell Dumas of Ramona avenue was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail by Judge Tom Neale Monday afternoon when he appeared to answer a charge of drunk driving.

Dumas was arrested a week ago Friday afternoon when he backed an automobile over the curb on the first block in West Sierra Madre Blvd. and knocked down a palm tree and nearly hit a building, the arresting officer stated. Dr. M. H. A. Peterson administered a sobriety test and pronounced Dumas under the influence of liquor, according to police records.

Local Resident Has Tree Producing 9 Lemons On Stem

While it is well known that the NEWS dislikes to humiliate its honored colleagues up and down and out across the citrus belt, we still feel constrained to call their attention to the fact that Sierra Madre is the champion lemon-grower in this part of the world. One of our subscribers came into the office yesterday with a cluster of nine lemons on a single stem. The subscriber, Mrs. Sarah A. Curran, 1110 Highland avenue, picked 'em off a tree in her back yard.

Work On New Zoning Ordinance Held Up By Storm Aid

Preparation of Sierra Madre's proposed new zoning ordinance will have to wait until engineers of the county's planning commission now working on storm damage jobs throughout the county can be released from the emergency work to which they have been assigned. Business Manager Myers had informed the City Council Wednesday that it may be ten days or two weeks before a zoning engineer who will be assigned to advise and assist the Sierra Madre planning commission in its job will be available.

Business Manager Myers Is Made Campaign Issue As Council Fight Opens

Girl On Treasure Hunt Killed As Car Upsets

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning at Temple Chapel in Monrovia for Alberta Silcott, 18 year old Pasadena Junior College student, who was killed Saturday night in Monrovia when a car in which she and Guy Harvey Clark, Jr., of 731 Woodland Drive, were riding overturned, pinning her beneath. Miss Silcott died enroute to the Monrovia Hospital.

She and Clark, who were said to be engaged, were on a gay "treasure hunt" that turned into a tragedy when their car hit a depression at the intersection of Greystone and Hill avenues and turned over.

Young Clark was completely exonerated of all blame in connection with the accident at a coroner's inquest, Tuesday.

City Granted Storm Aid By WPA

Work Starts Monday On Curb And Street Repair—Other Projects Pend

City Business Manager Al Myers received a telegram from Washington last night announcing that one of Sierra Madre's requests for WPA help in repairing damage by the recent storm had been approved and that work would be started next Monday morning. The particular project calls for resetting, repairing and renewing curbs damaged or washed away, for repairing or reconstructing damaged culverts and for repairing streets damaged by flood waters.

Communicating with the WPA headquarters in Los Angeles last night Mr. Myers learned that the work is to be done by WPA crews that will be moved in Monday morning.

Somewhat more than $6,000 was asked for this one project. The amount allowed is $4,995. It was said that other storm projects submitted by the city will be passed upon within the next few days, with the extreme probability that one or more of them will be approved before work is completed on the one first under taken. Sierra Madre it was said, was one of the first cities in the county outside of Los Angeles to have storm projects approved.

At a meeting of the city council Wednesday evening the engineering department submitted reports on applications of citizens for damage to their properties caused by the storm. In practically every case the engineers reported that the properties damaged were entirely private properties for which the city did not appear to be liable, since the building lots were in or very near channels naturally created by storm waters from the mountains.

City Attorney Walter A. Dunn was asked to inquire whether the city had any responsibility in such cases and whether or not it could legally help the property owner.

Some of the damaged properties were close to city reservoirs and Mr. Myers informed the council he had prepared plans for the construction of stone walls on the northside of all the upper reservoirs and that the WPA had been asked to make allocation to cover the cost. If this project is approved, he said, it will prevent further damage to some of the properties in question during future heavy rains.

Monrovia's Leading Merchant Is Dead; Funeral Monday

Death came early yesterday morning to John B. McBratney, pioneer Monrovia merchant and civic leader. Ill with a throat infection for the past two weeks the 51-year old co-founder and president of McBratney's dry goods store was rushed to the Huntington Hospital Sunday night in a vain attempt to ward off complications.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, in 1887, Mr. McBratney came to Monrovia in 1906, where he joined his brother, the late William J. McBratney in business. Their specialty, then as now, was fine Irish linens and laces. He took a personal pride in his annual pilgrimages to Ireland, where he made the firm's purchases. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Elsie McBratney, and four children, William, Kathleen, Sheila and John Jr., all of Gold Hill, Monrovia; and a sister, Miss Elizabeth McBratney, and other relatives in Ireland.

Funeral arrangements were not completed yesterday, but services will probably be held Monday afternoon in Love Oak Cemetery, Monrovia.

Opponents Demand Removal From Office; Name Committee To Direct Fight

Sierra Madre's first contest over municipal offices in six years, which has been remarkably quiet until this time, gives promise of warming up next week.

The group of citizens responsible for the councilmanic teltet consisting of Thomas Miller, Jr., Paul N. Carter, Thomas M. Schwartz and William J. Schiltz is organizing a citizens committee that will probably be completed at a meeting to-night of an executive committee already organized. This committee will decide on details of the campaign to be waged in behalf of its candidates, but it announced last night that "there will be no sensational ballyhoo in its campaign," and that it will "depend upon a quiet presentation of facts to place its men in office."

A statement issued on behalf of the committee seemed to clearly draw the campaign lines and to make the retention in office of City Business Manager Al S. Myers the most direct campaign issue by inferring that candidates endorsed by it had pledged themselves to the removal of Mr. Myers. "This committee favors the removal of City Business Manager Al S. Myers," the statement said.

John P. Schaefer of 31 East Alegria avenue is chairman of the committee. The other members include Edward D. Robertson, secretary; Harold F. Roberts, John T. Smurda, Edwin W. Ward, Jr., Alfred J. Dewey, Laurence Washburn and Dr. W. H. Scorns.

At tonight's meeting of the committee a decision will be reached as to whether or not headquarters will be opened and whether or not the candidates are to enter into a speaking campaign.

Mayor H. C. Reavis and those associated with him have given no inkling of their plans beyond a willingness to discuss the conduct of city affairs during their administration with their opponents at meetings wherever desired. Obviously they have been waiting for their opponents to launch the offensive.

Mayor Reavis and Councilman Lester K. Layton have accepted the Sierra Madre Forum's invitation to appear before it and discuss their candidacies. Councilman Warren O. Preston and Lawrence B. Brain appeared at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Forum prepared to discuss their candidacies but were informed that this week's session had been given over to a discussion of the "California Pension Plan." President Sheehan of the Forum, introduced both candidates, however, and told them the Forum would be glad to hear from them at a later date.

Council Expresses Appreciation To City's Workers

By a unanimous vote the council Wednesday adopted resolution warmly commending Business Manager Al Myers and city employees for their work during the recent storm. The resolution, presented by Councilman John Froehlich, follows in part:

"Whereas, said storm would have done untold damage to both public and private property within Sierra Madre if not prevented by the intelligence and untiring efforts of the Business Manager and the city employees under his direction.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the City Council of the City of Sierra Madre extends its sincere thanks and appreciation to the Business Manager and City employees who so willingly worked to prevent untold damage to public and private property throughout Sierra Madre, and in particular the City Council desires to thank the Business Manager for the promptness with which he exercised in securing outside aid in clearing storm damage."

Red Cross Chapter Gets Its Share Of Race Receipts

Sierra Madre's Red Cross chapter was awarded $282 as its share of the proceeds of Red Cross Flood Benefit Day at Santa Anita race track March 14. Entire gate receipts as well as those of the concessions and the pari mutuel windows were turned over to the fund, which was divided among the various Red Cross chapters. Miss Judson announced the $180.75 had been contributed by local citizens to the flood relief fund up to Tuesday noon.

A generous share of the gate receipts at the Wistaria Fete on Saturday, March 26, and again on April 1 will also be turned over to the Red Cross for local work, Miss Judson said.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Painting is always a good investment. Not only do you bring new life and beauty to your property, but you also protect it from deterioration and add to its worth. Remember paint costs little compared to the value of the property it protects.

In a Social Way

THIMBLE CLUB SURPRISES CANYON MEMBER

IN SPITE of the Lenten quiet which is usual at this time of the year, necessarily bringing a cessation of social engagements, friends are daily gathering upon one pretext or another to continue their congenial associations with each other.

A delightful affair was the surprise party given by the Thimble Club of Canyon Park in honor of the birthday of Mrs. Mattie Peters of 237 Vista Circle Drive last Thursday. St. Patrick's theme was carried out completely, including the repast and the ice-cream.

The fact that everything was kept such a secret from the honoree, of-course, added to the fun. She was presented a beautiful large azalea plant, as a gift from the club.

In addition to the fourteen guests, the three daughters of Mrs. Peters—Mrs. David Lloy, Mrs. Walter Johnson and Mrs. Etta Leach, the latter from Whittier, were present.

MRS. HERSEY HOSTESS TO BUENAS AMIGAS CLUB

Cementing the friendship of thirty years was the 11 o'clock breakfast given by Mrs. Col. H. B. Hersey of 575 North Hermosa avenue on Friday in honor of 24 members of Los Buenas Amigas club.

These Los Angeles friends of long standing, were seated at a beautiful green-and-white table that adhered to the decorations decreed by good old Saint Patrick.

BETHANY CLASS PAYS A THOUGHTFUL COMPLIMENT

A thoughtful compliment, in the form of a housewarming, was paid Mrs. Lucy Richardson and Mrs. A. E. O'Banion of 337 Camillo street last Thursday by members of the Bethany Church, of which the honoree is a member. As Mrs. Richardson has been ill it was thought wiser not to "surprise" her. Gifts were brought by the twenty-five guest. After the showing of these, the ladies were shown the attractive new home.

Mrs. J. Andrew Hall of West Grand View avenue gave a talk upon her's and Dr. Hall's work in the Philippines.

Daintily-appointed refreshments were served at the conclusion of the afternoon.

GARDEN CLUB MEMBERS GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

The luncheon inspired by St. Patrick last Friday at the home of Mrs. Marion L. Hays of 248 San Gabriel Court for the Esther Forman Garden Club was no legend, but a charming fact, as those present can testify.

Green and white decorations prevailed throughout. Mrs. Madelyn Smith presented each of the members with a dainty corsage of sweet peas.

Covers were laid for Mrs. A. J. Ware, Mrs. Arthur Udell, Mrs. George Poulter, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Augusta Coats, Mrs. Roy Davis, Mrs. Samuel Mercer, Mrs. Smedley, Mrs. E. Pinkerton, Mrs. W. A. McTavish, Mrs. McCall, Mrs. Lee High, Mrs. M. Craig, Mrs. Madelyn Smith and the hostess.

MRS. BUMPUS ENTERTAINS BRIDGE GROUP

Mrs. Foster C. Bumpus of 121 South Lima street is responsible for several friends having spent an enjoyable afternoon yesterday, the occasion being the meeting of the Thursday bridge group. Dessert was served and those who met were Mrs. E. J. Fontaine, Mrs. Daniel B. Hastings, Mrs. A. J. Lynn, Mrs. Wesley Field, and Mrs. Fred Schaeffer, besides the hostess.

MRS. NESTOR YOUNG ABLE TO ASSUME OLD PLACE

Guests are being entertained once more by Mrs. Nestor A. Young of 209 West Highland avenue, who has recovered sufficiently from her bad fall of nine weeks ago to gradually assume her old-time place in local affairs.

On Tuesday, Mrs. Agnes Morrison, of Idaho, who is wintering in the southland, was a luncheon guest, together with Mrs. H. B. Ayers of 57 West Grand View avenue. In the afternoon, the trio had tea at Wistaria Vine Gardens.

MISS PASCHALL TO SERVE AS BRIDESMAID

Mrs. Jack Paschall, Miss Genelle Paschall and Mrs. W. H. Scoins of Sierra Madre and Mrs. L. H. Lee of Altadena, were among the guests at an announcement-tea given by Miss Norma Jean Groton of Glendale at the Deauville Club in Santa Monica on Saturday.

The wedding, which is causing a flurry of excitement in southland circles, will take place May 28 in Pasadena, and the wedding entourage will include Miss Genelle Paschall in the role of bridesmaid. Hostesses are already putting aside days in which to honor the popular young deb. Among these is Miss Paschall, who is complimenting her in April. Preceding the tea on Saturday, the four ladies were entertained at the home of Mrs. D. C. MacEwin of Westwood Hills at luncheon.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mrs. Adria L. Johnson of 560 West Grand View avenue entertained Mrs. Bertha Shore of Des Moines, Iowa, on Friday at luncheon. Mrs. Shore is an old friend of Mrs. E. D. Burbank of 42 East Carter avenue, and was her houseguest until recently, both ladies moving in the same circle of prominent Des Moines society.

A chili supper followed by bridge was one of the highlights of Manzanita avenue Sunday evening, given by that hospitable couple Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lynn of number 625. The jolly group that accepted invitations consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Field, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams.

Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hersey of 575 North Hermosa avenue are entertaining at dinner on Sunday in honor of their son Gale. Covers will be laid for eight.

The Eteri Supper Club held its weekly meeting at the home of Juanita Thompson of N. Hermosa avenue on Wednesday evening. Miss Natalie Romans of Los Angeles took her place as leader. Thirteen members were in attendance.

The Rockford College Alumnae luncheon given on Saturday at Los Angeles included among its 24 guests Miss Hazel Farrell of 108 East Grand View avenue, and Miss Jean Woodward of 470 Ramona avenue.

A prettily-appointed bridge-luncheon was given Friday by Mrs. Herman M. Selk of 119 East Highland avenue in honor of her sister, Mrs. Donald Boettner of Santa Barbara, who was visiting in the Southland.

CHILD'S BIRTHDAY WISH IS GRATIFIED

Her repeated wish for a chocolate cake topped with coconut and pink candles for her birthday, was granted Lucille Coules of 475 Sturtevant Drive, on March 16, when Mrs. Victor W. Coules celebrated the natal day of her little daughter. After a series of games daintily-arranged refreshments were served the guests who included Carol and Janet Strouck, Dorothy Anthony, Mary Wilson and Margaret Coules, along with the honoree. Year-old baby Esther Coules, looked on for a few minutes.

THIS BIRTHDAY PARTY YOUNGSTERS WON'T FORGET

If you hear a group of very young people chortling with glee this week it is that merry red and white birthday party given by Mrs. Charles A. Henrotin in honor of the seventh birthday of her son, Master Mac Henrotin on Saturday afternoon at their new home in 777 Woodland Drive, that is being discussed. The little guests included Shirley Fite, Michael Suman, David Parr, Happy Heasley, Ann and Evelyn Knoblaugh and Bradley Perrine of Santa Anita Oaks.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN KANSAS

Word has just been received of the death of Miss Tommy Harrison at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. H. Faulders of 452 North Vassar avenue, Wichita, Kan., from a heart attack.

The Harrisons lived in Sierra Madre for 11 months at one time and made many friends while here. They have found it impossible to write to each one to acquaint them of their sad loss.

Azaleas Blooming Riotously At The Coolidge Gardens

Never have the Coolidge gardens azaleas been lovelier than they are now. In the wide shaded lath houses, the azaleas, growing as if in a forest of their own, are startlingly brilliant. Every tiny branch of the thousands of plants is aflame with all the colors of the rainbow, for with all its intensity and brilliance there is no sameness to the azalea. Small wonder that last Sunday the automobiles lined the street for a half mile each way on North Foothill Blvd.

A charming feature was that the visitors looked so happy, as if they had suddenly come into an unsuspected fairyland. Everybody is welcome and there is no admission charge to these acres of gorgeous color.

Among the thousands who enjoyed the National Orange Show at San Bernardino on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Mercer of 258 Adams street, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Hays of 248 Santa Anita Court.

Mrs. Ernest Best of Bella Vista Terrace was a weekend guest of her mother in Long Beach.

GUESTS FROM PERU ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson of North Hermosa avenue, entertained Peruvian guests at dinner last Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. William Sherer, who have been doing constructive work as missionaries in Iquitos, Peru, have come to this country on furlough. They showed an extensive collection of rare pictures of the Thompson home on Friday.

What A Girl Sees Ramblin' 'Round

By Marjorie Hesse

TUT! TUT! . . . What is this world coming to? . . . We read in a Los Angeles paper Monday evening of Tommy Farr, prizefighter, with his fiancée and the reporter described the dress of his bride-to-be thus: "Miss whistis was attired in a smart white fox fur!" . . . Just another one of those show-offy show girls . . . we suppose.

We don't feel the least bit like working today . . . we should like to go find a nice sunny spot and lie on our back and snooze . . . or else watch the wind skip over wild flowers . . . and little fleecy clouds hasten across the sky . . . and some important business . . . But you have to have your paper, so we must work.

As we came to work Tuesday morning we saw the shining faces of children going schoolward . . . with colorful bouquets of spring blossoms for teachers clutched in their little fists . . . We expect there is a lot of apple-polling going on at the Sierra Madre School for we counted about six bouquets . . . We wanted to kiss about forty of them, they were so cute . . . Some lady brought an adorable, baldheaded baby to Forum meeting with her last Tuesday . . . that gurgled and cooed in such an alluring manner that the audience couldn't keep its mind on the speakers and kept turning around to look at the baby . . . Finally, baby grew tired and tried a few tentative yells on his mother . . . and the effect was so devastating mother was electrified and left with him . . . and it seemed as if a brightness went with the baby . . . During the reading of the city budget by Councilman Lester K. Layton . . . when everybody was straining to follow as their minds were filled with figures—which are difficult to visualize mentally, anyhow—some was wanted to know—when the park budget was discussed—if it included shells for the cannon . . . thereby precipitating a roar of laughter . . .

We have a contributor who signs himself J. Willoughby Backridge . . . and though, perhaps, his means of expression lack the polish which practise will give . . . we feel he should be encouraged and we think you will say with us that the writer of the following poem has a sense of beauty.

WHITE STARS
Snow white stars on Yellow ground
These Orange petals
Fall around
The tree, like mantle
Spread
The joy they gave
Was short
Unuttered was their
Plea while hanging clustered
On each bough
Not dead are they
For I saw!

We are still mmming over that delicious marmalade Mrs. A. E. Pulling made and sold at the Wistaria Fete Saturday for the benefit of the Woman's Club . . . We also noticed Father Hyacinth lingered near the candy booth of St. Rita's Aid Society . . . and we darkly suspect him of having a sweet tooth.

Can you eemagine calling the dignified Dr. A. O. Pritchard "Arthur" like the iconoclastic Kiwanians do? . . . Now, we are waiting open-armed for them to call him "Art" . . . As the only gal at the Tuesday Kiwanis luncheon we enjoyed ourselves immensely and everybody was flatteringly chivalrous . . . "Dr. Pete" (Dr. M. H. A. Peterson to you) sang Irish songs . . . and was soundly kidded because he's Swedish . . . and Jim Heasley . . . the real Irishman and a few others . . . were bashful . . . maybe . . . and didn't do anything . . . Jim leads the group singing, however, and does a nice job of it . . .

Charles Kinnear, new Chamber of Commerce secretary . . . is a very pleasant chap . . . and always has a nice smile . . . he was in charge of the Wistaria C. of C. booth, Saturday . . . we have been accused of being "too nice" and of liking everybody . . . Dear me, such an accusation and we fear its more or less true . . . We don't like EVERYBODY . . . for there are a few people who curd our souls when we look at them . . . but we find the majority of our acquaintances exceedingly in-

Pratt Glad He Lives Here After Seeing Storm Damage Elsewhere

Compared with other communities all Sierra Madre received in the recent flood was a good wetting in the opinion of Waverly Pratt, city clerk.

Mr. Pratt was in the 20-car cavalcade of 4-H club members and leaders that toured the flood district on Saturday under the guidance of a flood control representative and according to him the damage here was practically nil.

The first stop of the motorcade was at the home of Ralph Bellamy, actor, who owned an expensive residence near Griffith Park close to the Los Angeles River. All that remained of the estate was the front gate. Mr. Pratt said. Lankershim Blvd. in most sections is entirely washed out, and in North Hollywood the river had cut around a residential section and left 10 or 12 lovely homes sitting on an island.

North Hollywood Park, where the group ate lunch, was cut to ribbons by the flood, Pratt said, and in many places near the park, houses are silted up to the windows. Steam shovels, instead of men are digging those sections out, he said.

Two bridges—one a railroad bridge and the other a highway bridge—were torn out, with the railroad bridge resting under the other one, Pratt said. The river cut a new channel near the old studios in North Hollywood and completely washed out pavement, bridges, houses and all.

Pratt stated after his glimpse of the flood-ravaged district he is very glad that he was living in Sierra Madre even if he did forget to shut off the water faucets in his house the day of the flood.

Spring Arrivals Take Place Of Racing Folks

The list of newcomers to Sierra Madre this week looks most impressive, especially with the exodus of racing people and it looks as if the city will soon be filled up again.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hibbard have taken an apartment at 15 West Mira Monte avenue; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ryan are living at 503 West Montecito avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Rightmore have taken a house in the Canyon at 571 Sturtevant Drive. Mr. and Mrs. C. Day Woodford are at 200-A Michillinda Blvd.

Other spring arrivals include Mrs. Anna M. Madden, 277 West Highland avenue; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Davis, 584 Brookside Lane; Mrs. A. Kuykendall, 70 West Mira Monte avenue; the Kenneth B. Thompsons at 629 Alta Vista Drive. Mrs. Nellie Schneeberger Adair has taken a house at 205 North Hermosa avenue.

LATEST PE AGENT HERE TO BE A FIXTURE

Another shift in P. E. agents was made Tuesday when M. E. Gilbert arrived from Wilmington to carry on as permanent ticket agent in Sierra Madre. M. A. Soper, present agent, leaves the end of the week for a vacation in the North. When he returns he will take up his duties as agent at Beverly Hills.

Mr. Gilbert is the fourth agent at the P. E. Station since George Mesecar, who held the job down steadily for 23 years, retired in October.

Interesting . . . For said Socrates (or somebody) . . . the proper study of mankind is man (see there, P.P.S. we are intellectual, too!)

Mary Schwartz, Myrna Cant and Ruth Klunk were busier'n heck at the Fete Saturday. Mary was selling postcards. Ruth was looking after flowers and Myrna was smiling and being pretty, when we saw her.

YOUR HOME AND MINE

BY ANNE WILSON

The fast pace at which most of us live our lives makes it advisable to indulge in a short period of relaxation at night before we go to sleep. Reading in bed is the way most of us accomplish quietude. Fifteen minutes with a light story calms the nerves and composes one for slumber.

Reading in bed sometimes is frowned upon because it was apt to result in eyestrain. The truth is that it is not the reading in bed that is at fault but the way it is done. Vision most surely is endangered if one lies flat on the back and reads in the light of a glaring or too-dim lamp. But it is perfectly safe to read in bed if you sit up and if you have the proper light.

The best light you can provide yourself for reading in bed is an indirect table lamp on the bedside table. These lamps, originally designed by a national society of illuminating engineers, were introduced several years ago as study lamps. Since then, they have been made with more attractive bases and shades which make them decorative as well as useful additions to bedrooms and living rooms. These lamps have bases which are higher than ordinary, and supply diffused, soft light through an indirect glass bowl. They also light the rest of the room, thereby dispelling the harsh contrasts that strain the eyes.

Another approved light for reading in bed is the indirect pin-it-up lamp which is hung on the wall close to the head of the bed.

Banking Looks Ahead

FAITH IN THE FUTURE

in our complex economic system, the element of faith plays a tremendously important part.

Workers, farmers, housewives and business men must have faith in their banks when they bring their deposits for safekeeping.

Banks must have faith in individuals and enterprises when they advance credit. Business must have faith in the future before it will incur the risks of expansion and development.

We believe that renewed faith and sincere co-operation on the part of all classes and groups of people will carry our country to new heights of abundance and well-being.

Delight thyself also in the Lord; and He shall give thee the desires of thine heart.—Ps. 37.4.

All who call on God in true faith, earnestly from the heart, will certainly be heard, and will receive what they have asked and desired, although not in the hour or in the measure, or the very thing which they ask; yet they will obtain something greater and more glorious than they had dared to ask.—Martin Luther.

The... Watch Tower

SHE said, "Tell us some more about your adventures in Paris." We sighed. "Ah, Paris!" For no particular reason. Except that Paris did seem just then so long ago and far away. March—mid-Lent—mi-Careme, as they call it over there. But as we sat there under the first blooms of the Wistaria Vine a faint breath came down from the hills. Touched with frost and budding trees. Someone passed trailing the ghost of a perfume-furs and musk. And there was all Paris stirring about us again—right here in Sierra Madre. Hills gone!—Vine!—Everything! And in their place glimpses of the Louvre and the Latin Quarter; the Seine and her bridges; Notre Dame.

IT ALL reminded us, we told her, of a fellow we found in the Morgue. The old Paris Morgue. There on the tip of the Island back of Notre Dame. Which used to be one of the sights of Paris. A low-built stone building where they kept the unidentified dead—mostly suicides from the Seine—for public inspection—a certain number of days, behind a big glass window. And here we found this friend of ours. Not dead. He was outside the window looking in. At a lady lying there with a neat gray blanket drawn up decently under her chin. Between two gentlemen. All of whom had probably been perfect strangers until they'd met here at the Morgue. Three fresh suicides. Yet with a look—on the face of each of them—the most exquisite pleasure—as when one finds again a trusted and loving friend.

WE SPOKE to our friend. "Francis!" A good-looking boy. An American. But wholly Latin Quarter, as happened at that time to be the style. With memories of DuMaurier's "Tribby" still running strong; and all the young foreigners, the Americans particularly, trying to imitate—Jimmy Whistler, if they happened to paint; or Byron, maybe, or Robert Louis Stevenson, if they happened to write. Long hair, the black cap, any old hat or beret so long as it has personality; the walking-stick you felt should have been a sword. Francis painted. He'd been pretty pagan when we'd seen him last. Now he appeared to have lost his swagger. "Come with me," he said. And there was a look on his face almost like that we'd noticed on the faces of the dead.

SO WE came out of the Morgue and we crossed the narrow street to the little wooded park at the back of Notre Dame. Right up against an angle of the choir, under an open window. Spring. A whiff of the garden and a whiff of incense. Pipes of Pan—and the cathedral organ singing bass. Francis asked us if we'd ever read that poem of William Blake's about "everything being everywhere and everyone." Or was it the other way round? Anyway, with some difficulty, he quoted:

And did those feet in ancient time
Walk upon England's mountains green?
And was the holy Lamb of God
On England's pleasant pastures seen?

AND he said it didn't matter—when we shook our head. This was what he meant. That Christ—He was everywhere. Since seeing us last he'd almost died. In a private hospital. A rich American for whom he'd happened to be doing some work had sent him there. And when he finally emerged from his long period of partial coma and delirium, a saintly old nun, very beautiful and gentle, who'd been nursing

UP-SE-DAISY!

$25,000,000 INVESTED WISELY PROVING CALIFORNIA'S GREATEST ASSET

By RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agri-Council of California)

CALIFORNIA farm cooperatives, with their 70,000 farmer-members, doing an annual business of approximately $150,000,000 and selling their products in virtually every country on the face of the globe, have many splendid accomplishments to their credit.

But perhaps their most striking accomplishment—at least in its impact on world markets—is the fact that the co-ops have demonstrated to American agriculture that advertising is as much a part of the farmer's business as planting and harvesting.

The poet's man with the hoe, in up-to-date portrait, is "the man with the ad!"

And to that transformation, many thousands of California farmers owe the fact that they are still doing business, despite depressions and floods, surpluses and freeze and all the other vicissitudes which are the lot of farmers.

California agriculture, this month, has particular cause to celebrate its advent into the field of advertising, for it was just 30 years ago—on March 2, 1908, to be exact—that the first page ad of a California farm co-op appeared in a newspaper.

The paper selected for the initial ad was the Des Moines Register and the trail-blazing co-op was the California Fruit Growers Exchange, now the world's largest agricultural marketing organization.

That year, when farm product advertising was still considered a novelty, or at most a somewhat doubtful experiment, the advertising campaign was restricted to the State of Iowa, as a test. The results of the test were spectacular and on its way to fame. At the end of the season, Iowa sales had increased 50 per cent, while sales in the rest of the country had jumped 17 per cent!

In the 30 years since the Iowa experiment, the California Fruit Growers Exchange has invested him, told him that she'd promised God to try to make a Christian of him (meaning a Catholic) if God would spare his life. And Francis had told the nun that whatever she'd promised, that went, so far as he was concerned.

SO then, he said, when he'd been properly instructed in the catechism and he was strong enough, they'd taken him out of his room and along white corridors. The mother superior and a few elderly nuns were his only attendants. He lost, at last, the smell of the hospital. And they came into a magnificent chapel. Smoky with incense, heavy with flowers. All white—the purest white marble beautifully carved. Even the organ was white, and a sister in white seated there like St. Cecilia. While a choir of white-robed nuns—"like a flock of angels," Francis said—chanted songs in French and Latin. "Je suis Chretien! Je suis Chretien!" It was as if he had died and come up to heaven.

THEY presented him at the altar. Where he knelt. And raised his eyes to the priest who was bending over him. "Not the old almoner I was expecting," said Francis. "It wasn't old Father Lemus who'd been teaching me the catechism. Although at first I thought it was. But—even as I strained to see I saw—a younger man—with a face so shining—that I had to shut my eyes—and simply know that there was—Something—there." Francis looked at us. He said: "Am I crazy? We shook our head. 'For I felt then,' he said, 'as the dead must feel when they come to life—after what we call death—and take on that strange look they have—even in the Morgue.'

DELUDED BLACKBIRD CARRIES ON BITTER FIGHT AGAINST AN IMAGINARY ENEMY

"Fighting Bill" the pugilistic blackbird still with a stout heart and an undaunted soul is probably sitting in a tree-top today wondering bitterly why he can't lick his weight in wildcats.

"Bill" has been breaking his heart for two weeks by trying to defeat a crafty bird that lives in the shiny surface of Judge T. W. Neale's car. Judge Neale, and his partner, Joe T. Russell both park their automobiles in front of their office on West Sierra Madre Blvd., and each day soon after the cars are parked the bird flies down to battle, followed closely by his demure wife, who sits on the curb urging "Bill" to annihilate his fancied enemy.

"Bill" nothing loth, waddles to the parked machine and with a "watch me" air, flies up to the running board and begins to peck madly away at his reflection. He flaps his little wings until he is so exhausted he falls over on the running board in despair, Judge Neale says. Finally, he is forced to fly away by the adamant bird in some secret tree-nook, gathering himself together for another round.

Later in the day he returns with the Mrs.—this time to really show her something—and the battle starts all over again. Lately, however, Judge Neale says, "Bill" has been displaying craft. He will hop down from the running board and run under the car, looking for his adversary. Then he tries more strategy. Feigning defeat he starts to fly away then suddenly turns around and dives over the car to try and catch his opponent from the rear. Finally, he grows tired and, still quivering with rage and with his feathers ruffled from chagrin flies away, followed by his dutiful mate.

FATE HALTS PLANS OF TRAILER GYPSIES

Take it from Louis de S. Fuller and don't go "trailing around" in a de-luxe trailer when flood conditions prevail. For he and Mrs. Fuller and "Squiggie," their pooch, decided several months ago to set sail for unknown ports in their new trailer.

But just about that time fate stepped in and through a series of mishaps to tenants in their home in Sierra Madre, etc., plus the February rains, found them still restlessly cooling their heels in Santa Monica after a trip to San Diego, when they want to fly away to Del Monte.

First census of the U. S. population was taken in 1790. It revealed a total of four million people.

All the perplexity and mental gymnastics which provide the harrowing accompaniment while America fills out its annual income tax blanks have now faded into the past until another March comes knocking at the door. Though this task left not a few mild headaches in its wake, it also brought its footnotes of comedy and pathos. Taxpayer or not, what American can fail to sympathize with the plight which has befallen a Kentucky man confronted with a Federal income tax bill of $7.40. His salary of $400 a month is no more, he says.

Someone took his job. The finance company took his car. Someone else took his home. His wife took all the furniture and then departed with another man. Having nothing left but his health and his education, this luckless man wants to pay off his $7.40 bill, working in the Department of Internal Revenue. Uncle Sam said "No!" This week he starts scratching from scratch.

Every hour more than 100 million cubic feet of water pass over Niagara Falls, wearing back the rock at the rate of five feet each year.

You have probably suspected this before, but here come proof of it in the black and white figures of a University of Chicago survey. It reveals nothing less than that 91 per cent of America's adult population read at least one newspaper. There's an answer for the gloomy heart who feared newsmagazines would supplant newspapers, that radio's chime signals sounded the forlorn death-knell of papers. But as it's been said before, only the home town paper can provide the full and vivid picture of the world and people around us.

The WEEKLY CONSTITUTIONAL

by MAX BERNES

Courts and Umpires

On what basis does the Supreme Court declare a statute void?

The Supreme Court does not pass laws or statutes or determine whether they are good or bad any more than an umpire makes the rules or declares whether they are good or bad. The Court's only job, like the umpire's, is to make decisions in accordance with the rules.

A baseball rule may seem to be good when written but turn out bad in practice. Experience often provides the real test. So also with a statute passed by Congress. It may appear satisfactory when written but develop unconstitutional phases when administered.

And the Supreme Court never passes upon a statute unless challenged in Court by litigants. The Court then has before it not only the statute as passed by Congress but also as administered in actual cases. Before passing judgment, it reads and hears arguments from both sides—(a) to sustain the statute and (b) to show how, in actual cases, it conflicts with the Constitution.

The Court then lays the statute as rior law or statute must give way to the superior law—the Constitution. With a written Constitution defined as "the supreme law of the land," no other course is open. Any ordinary statute in conflict with the Supreme law necessarily is void. Copyright 1937 by Max Bernes

RAPS PENSION PLAN

Editor, Sierra Madre News:

Speakers for the California Pension Plan stated over the radio the other night that they will hold a meeting Tuesday night in Sierra Madre.

The 1938 N. Y. World Almanac, page 249, states there are 1,160,455 citizens in California over 50 years of age, so if 600,000 are eligible, they will receive 18 million dollars weekly or 936 million dollars annually and it will take over 48 billion 2 cent stamps annually, or if 700,000 are eligible, they will receive 21 million dollars weekly or over one billion dollars annually and it will take over 56 billion 2 cent stamps annually.

Thirty dollars every Thursday, is $130 per month and a man and his wife will receive $260 per month or $3,120 per annum.

They claim to have over 32 thousand members—dues are 30 cents per month.

I have a letter from Prof. Irving Fisher, economist of Yale University, who is being quoted as endorsing the "plan," in which he says it is absolutely unworkable and deploring the fact that so many people are being misled.

G. M. L. MONTGOMERY.
Business address, 1010 Lincoln Bldg., Los Angeles.

(Editors Note: It becomes necessary again to remind our readers that anonymous letters will not be published in THE NEWS. This is the practice in every reputable newspaper office in America and will be rigidly followed here. A request that the writer's name not be signed to a communication may be complied with, but at least the editor has a right to know that the correspondent is a responsible citizen. Writers of anonymous letters should know that they carry no weight with any thinking citizen and are generally regarded with contempt. Two such letters were received this week. If the writer of the letter who signed him or herself "A Subscriber" will come into the office for identification, THE NEWS will be glad to publish it, including the puerile reflection on the newspaper.)

STOLEN AUTO PARKED AT CITY HALL

Abandoning a stolen auto in an auto parking lot adjacent to the city hall was a thoughtful gesture made by auto thieves and was brought to light when police investigated a car parked there for three days and discovered it to be stolen.

Investigation disclosed that a couple had visited an automobile agency and were permitted to try out the car, but didn't return it.

The Marriage Problem

By WARNER FABIAN

Unknown Author of "Flaming Youth," "Sailors' Wives," etc.

Marriage Going Out of Fashion but Not Out of Fashion

MUCH depends upon whether this is to be prophecy or a guessing contest. If it is prophecy I should prefer that some one else should do it. I have yet to meet the married pair daring enough (after the first rapturous certainties of the honeymoon) to forecast what their own individual case of marriage will become twenty years from now. Multiply the twenty by five, and the single instance by several billions, and the problem presents what might conservatively be called prophetic difficulties.

But any one may enter a guessing bee, and my best guess on the future, based upon considerations of the past and present, is that the world will be so profoundly different in 2035 A. D. that unless marriage alters to suit the new conditions it will find itself as anachronistic as a velocipede on Broadway.

Already matrimony is going out of favor. By this I do not for a moment mean that it is going out of fashion, which would be much more serious and alarming. But nobody seems to think well of it as practiced at present.

It is the most discussed topic wherever the socially elect are gathered together and wherever a topic is widely and heatedly discussed it is because people are discontented with the present status. The general opinion is that marriage is not as advertised and that something ought to be done about it. I have not yet heard what.

In seeking alleviation for an uncomfortable condition (even a hundred years hence) the essential preliminary is to find out what is wrong. As women are the factors most vitally interested, and incidentally doing the most objecting, it seems reasonable to consult them. Accordingly, I put a query to three of the most intelligent ones in my acquaintance, representing three separate and distinct generations (an emergent flapper of twenty, a married beauty of thirty, and a disillusioned skeptic of forty); what, in their view, was wrong, if anything, with marriage as an institution.

"Too risky," said Twenty.
"Too permanent," pronounced Thirty.
"Too uneven," opined Forty.

That forwarded my inquiry a little, but not much. It did not seem likely that the chances of matrimony would become less hazardous, except, perhaps, as the condition itself became less permanent. And would not that mean merely exchanging old risks for new? As for Forty's indictment, there, indeed, conditions seemed to be modifying the force of it, and the woman to be steadily consolidating her strategic position.

"What will it be like a hundred years from now?"
I should have foreseen the answer, which was unanimous: "We'll all be dead by then." (Meaning, of course, "What does it matter, since I won't be here to see it?" Women are like that—well, some women.)
"But, anyway," I insisted.

"A hundred years from now there won't be any such thing as marriage," said the emergent flapper, which was interesting as coming from the youngest generation.

"And I suppose there won't be any such thing as sex, either?" retorted the young married woman scornfully.
"If there is it won't be in chains."
"Or in swaddling clothes either—maybe" put in the disillusioned skeptic thoughtfully.

This sounded hopeful. "Now, I wonder what you mean by that?" I said. But she would not tell me. "Anyway," offered Thirty, "it's the most stable partnership yet invented."

"What do you mean stable?" demanded Twenty.

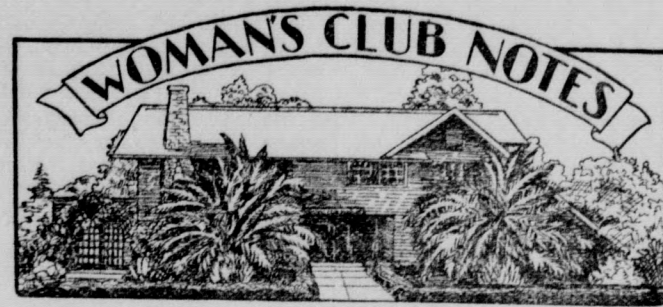

"How many business partnerships do you suppose last?"
"I dunno. Most of 'em, don't they?"

"My husband says that 90 per cent of 'em flop. Well, even in our set, a good half of the marriages stick."

"They educate men for business. I wonder how it would work if they educated them for marriages as a partnership?"

It seems that there might almost be something in that theory of educating people up to marriage.

A hundred years hence marriage will be different from what it is now in one important respect, that we shall know more about it both before and after taking than we do now. We could not well know less!

Racing Season's End Relieves Acute Housing Shortage

Vacant houses have been as scarce as hen's teeth in Sierra Madre for several months, but with closing of the Santa Anita racing season and the resultant general exodus of race track people there are many desirable vacancies now available to home-seekers, real estate agents assert.

But, say the agents, this condition is not likely to last long as the vacancies are rapidly filling up with early spring arrivals. According to one Canyon real estate agent six of the thirty vacancies made over the week-end were filled the first day.

The racing people have found Sierra Madre a desirable place to spend the season, and the local agents believe that next year will find more of them here than ever before as many of those who went to Arcadia and Monrovia were flooded out during the storm and all feel "all wet" toward those cities as a consequence.

Water From Tunnels Not Going Into Supply Lines

Inquiries being made at the NEWS office indicate that some citizens are apprehensive that the city's water supply may be contaminated by use of supplies from the water tunnels on the mountainside, but investigation yesterday revealed that the tunnel water though clear as crystal, is being diverted to the city's spreading grounds.

"Not a drop of this water has gone into the reservoirs or mains since the recent storm," said Business Manager Myers, "and this policy will be continued until the most remote possibility of contamination is passed."

"All the water going through our mains is being pumped from the city wells, which is not generally done at this season of the year. It is quite remarkable that in view of this continued and steady drain on the underground basin, the water levels continue to rise daily."

He quoted authorities and adduced evidence that education can and should be a lifelong process, that adults can acquire new abilities up to any age and that fascinating and rich inner lives can be developed in maturity. Indeed, to win happiness that endures he urged the cultivation of interest in poetry, arts and crafts and other forms of self-expression.

bodies. Visitors are invited.

4:30—Poetry Clinic with Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney reading and discussing original poems submitted by anyone who attends. This will take the place of their regular Thursday afternoon class at the Sierra Madre Parkhouse.

6:00—Poetry recital by Dorothy Marie Davis, contributor to "Pictorial Review" and many other magazines.

7:00—Poets' banquet. Not a dress affair. Reservations should be made in advance by phoning Sierra Madre 276-3. At the dinner the prize-winners will be announced and the prize-winning poems read.

7:45—Singing of the Wistaria Fete Song, lyric by Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney, sung by Miss Olive Sedgeman accompanied by Miss Ruth West.

8:00—Symposium: Education in the Creative Arts. Prof. Edward W. Hauck of U.S.C., formerly president of the Los Angeles Board of Education; Mrs. Nina Willis Walter, editor of "Nuggets," and Mr. T. Virgil Truman, principal of the Pasadena Evening High School, will participate.

Panel discussion on the subject: "Pensions for Poets—or Prisoners?" This heatedly controversial topic will be debated in true forensic style by Lucia Trent, Lee Shippey, Los Angeles Times columnist and novelist, May S. Mason, writer, Perley Poore Sheehan, novelist, dramatist and journalist; Harold D. Carew, literary editor of Pasadena Star-News, and Ralph Cheyney, teacher of creative writing in Pasadena at Muir Tech. Questions and opinions from the floor will follow the rebuttals.

Then, as the crowning feature and frolic of the evening, the second One-Minute Poem Tournament. Anyone and everyone is invited to come with a poem in his pocket or up his sleeve and read it to the assembled multitude.

There will be book prizes for the poems most loudly applauded. The master of ceremonies throughout the day is Ralph Cheyney, Pennsylvania's Poet

Child Protection Is Discussed At PTA Meeting

How can we best protect our children?

Not by saving money for them with inflation, increasing depressions and insecurity ahead! Not by teaching them to memorize facts when facts and our interpretations of them is changing so rapidly and when not memory but adaptation is the chief need! Not by teaching a trade when some new machine may shoulder aside those working at it! Not by enforcing obedience to persons, which is fascist, rather than to principles! But by fostering imagination, training emotions and encouraging creativeness, which matures emotions and turns imagination to social value.

This was the gist of the joint lecture delivered last Thursday at the largest meeting this year of the Sierra Madre P.T.A. in the grammar school auditorium by Lucia Trent and Ralph Cheyney.

The meeting was proceeded with singing by several classes. It was followed by tea with tasty decorations in the spirit and color of the day, St. Patrick's Day.

SIERRA MADREANS SEE DESERT CIRCUS

To say that Mrs. Henry Isaacs of 333 Sturtevant Drive, Dr. L. L. Krebs, and their party enjoyed colorful Circus Week at Palm Springs is expressing it mildly. Genuine western apparel and Los Angeles socialites in cowboy raiment helped put over a mighty good show. Miss Madeline Lee, indispensable secretary of those blackface comedians of the other waves, Amos n' Andy, and a close friend of Mrs. Isaacs, had dinner with the Sierra Madreans at El Mirador.

Laureate who gave up the laureate-ship to become a 100 per cent Californian. Chairman of the large committee of arrangements is Lucia Trent.

CANADIANS ENJOY A HAPPY REUNION HERE

A reunion that carried much sincere pleasure in its wake was the weekend visit of Mr. and Mrs. George Bell of Vancouver, B. C., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Hall of 241 West Montecito avenue. Mr. Bell is a zealous worker in the United Church of Parliament until four years ago. He and Mr. Hall revived old scenes of the latter's ministerial work in Canada, while Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Hall spent many happy hours discussing their childhood days and those of their parents, who were close friends.

The Bells' admiration of Sierra Madre was expressed in glowing terms.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of The Boys

THE sand and dirt left on the street after the big storm caused the merchants to do plenty of dusting after it dried out. The fire trucks also had to be dusted several times a day.

Joe Swanson has an odd hobby. He collects comic strips. On Sunday mornings he has a regular routine which he covers to gather "funnies" before the people burn them up. He says that his family of gir-r-ris request him to do this. Strange what a maid can do with a man.

Art Johnson is back at his spot on scenic Point since the Wistaria Fete started and looks familiar there.

Tonight is the night when all good firemen arrive on time at the station. The bell rings at 7:30 p.m.

It has been so long since we have had to fight a fire that the boys are at loss for conversation. A fireman can't resist the temptation to tell the part he played in extinguishing a blaze, nor can he help but discover (after the fire is out) how matters could have been handled better. A fire call is always a fine source of conversation and argument.

Due to so many rainy Friday evenings they have even been denied the opportunity to drill, and then of telling how well they performed their duties. And tho' we like to tell of our experiences at a fire, we would much rather tell of the few fires that we have in Sierra Madre.

TWO STATE PICNICS

Missourians and their friends will gather at Bixby Park, Long Beach, all day, Sunday, March 27th for the mammoth annual spring picnic reunion. For the convenience of the many thousands of former Missourians who will throng the park, registers will be posted at the headquarters of each of the 114 counties and principal cities.

Tourists and former residents of Kansas are called to meet for a great picnic reunion, all day, Saturday April 2nd in Sycamore Grove Park. There will be county registers and headquarters so all may find friends and neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sandage of 168 West Highland avenue spent Sunday looking over their avocado grove at Vista.

The many friends of Mrs. E. D. Burbank of 42 West Carter avenue, who have been deeply concerned over her serious illness, will be greatly relieved to hear of an improvement in her condition.

Mrs. Bertha Rolfe of Pasadena was in Sierra Madre on Tuesday, paying one of her occasional visits to a group of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster C. Bumpus of 121 South Lima street, with Foster Jr., and Nancy Lee, have been traveling over some of the storm-swept country on their Sunday drives. A week ago they surveyed Corona, and on Sunday motored out to Fish Canyon where they found storm damage being rapidly repaired.

Mr. C. C. Pease of San Diego was a weekend visitor at the home of his sister, Miss Edna Pease of 306 Churchill Road.

Miss A. V. Dubar of Titusville, Penna., is a houseguest of the John T. Smurda's of 650 West Montecito avenue. On Tuesday, Mrs. Smurda was hostess to Mrs. Herman Erickson and daughter, Miss Dorothy Erickson of Erie, Penna., who are sojourning in Los Angeles this winter.

Mrs. Alfred Dodge Cole of Columbus, Ohio, who has been visiting relatives and friends in Los Angeles and San Diego for the winter, is a houseguest of Miss Mary Davis of 305 W. Laurel avenue. She and Miss Davis were guests of their mutual friend Mrs. Nestor A. Young of West Highland avenue on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Cole will shortly be entertained by Mrs. Young for an indefinite period.

Mrs. Gladys Albright and daughter, Marilyn, of 289 Nehr Drive, with Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Malotte and son of E. Grand View avenue were interested visitors at the 28th National Orange Show in San Bernardino on Sunday.

Miss Marguerite Hager of Los Angeles, is recuperating at the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wysocki of 405 Churchill Road for several weeks. She feels the quiet of Sierra Madre will be most helpful.

Mrs. Robert B. Smith of 273 Ramona avenue with her daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Fred La Lone, spent a pleasant day at Long Beach and Bellflower last week, at the homes of her sons.

Mrs. Elmer S. Firestone, Janice Bolen of Los Angeles and Mrs. E. F. Read of Glendale were callers Sunday at the home of Dr. Edythe M. Dutcher and mother, Mrs. Minnie R. MacDowell.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Noake of 585 Manzanita avenue have just returned from a jaunt to the beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Whitman of Los Gatos. Mr. Whitman is a retired architect of New York and many outstanding buildings in New York were created by him.

Miss Gladys Lansing of Eagle Rock, was a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. K. L. Hart of Bella Vista Terrace on Tuesday.

Mrs. Bertha Shore of Des Moines, Iowa, who has been a houseguest of old friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Burbank of 42 West Carter avenue, is spending some time with friends in Pasadena. She will return to Sierra Madre after the recovery of Mrs. Burbank, who has been ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Hicks of 550 Oakdale Place are leaving on the Santa Fe for Detroit, Mich., and other points east, on Sunday, for an indefinite stay. Major and Mrs. P. B. Linville, whose home was lost during the storm, will occupy their house in their absence.

The Executive Board of the Missionary Society of Bethany Church met on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. F. D. R. Moote, 689 West Sierra Madre Blvd., at 1:30 p.m. Miss Lena Lee was in charge.

Mrs. H. A. Nobles and daughters, the Misses Esther and Besie Nobles of Pasadena, were dinner-guests of Mr. and Mrs. Everett B. Gibson of 646 Orange Drive on Sunday, the latter, a daughter of Mrs. Nobles.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Cox of 711 Alta Vista Drive were hosts on Sunday to their son and fam-

Thousand Scouts To Attend Court Of Honor In Pasadena

Sierra Madre Scouts are interested in the observance of the nineteenth anniversary of the founding of the San Gabriel Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, when the Pasadena-Alhambra and La Canada Court of Honor will be held in the Pasadena Civic Auditorium on March 31, 7:30 p.m. Feature of the evening will be the guest appearance of Joe Penner, radio star, who will provide the entertainment.

With approximately 1,000 local scouts in uniform appearing at the Court a real opportunity is provided the public to view the award ceremony.

Retreat League To Induct New Head Next Monday

Climaxing the Lenten season, the solemn Tre Ore Devotions will be held in the public chapel at Mater Dolorosa Monastery on Good Friday, April 15, from 12 until 3 p.m. Fr. Angelo Hamilton, C.P., retreat director of the monastery, announced Tuesday.

The discourses will be given by Father Bertrand, and the music will be furnished by St. Rita's choir.

Contrary to the usual custom, there will be no retreat at the monastery over the Easter weekend, it was announced.

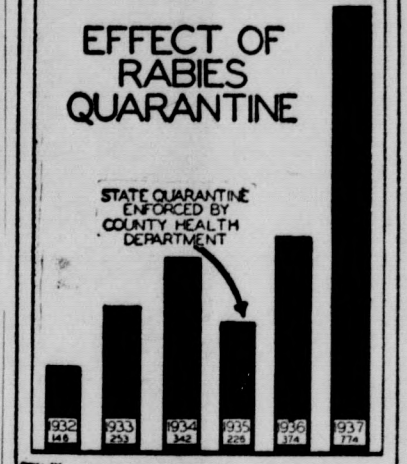

Business and professional men from Eagle Rock will be in retreat at the Monastery during this weekend, and Southland attorneys will compose the retreatants the weekend of April 1. The Newman Club of the University of California at Los Angeles will go into retreat April 8.

Al Berghoff, 2001 Los Amigos street, Montrose, was elected president of the Mater Dolorosa Layman's Retreat League at a meeting held at the Monastery, Monday night. He succeeds the late Frank M. Bering, who died February 18 after serving the League as president for five years.

A dinner-meeting of the board will be held Monday at 6 p.m. at the Clark Hotel, Los Angeles, to introduce the new president and formulate plans for the coming season.

Mrs. Henry Isaacs of 333 Sturtevant Drive motored into Los Angeles on Tuesday to pick up her guest, Mrs. Wm. Frick of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, aunt of Dr. L. L. Krebs, who is stopping at the Chapman Park Hotel.

Mrs. Tilda Farrell of 108 East Grand View avenue spent Friday visiting friends in Los Angeles.

Showing concern over the sharp rise during the past two years in the number of rabid animals including dogs, cats, cows, rabbits, goats, rats, sheep and mules, Los Angeles County Health authorities are cooperating with the State in enforcement of the recently modified rabies quarantine.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Cox and little son John of Santa Barbara. Jeanette Cox, the baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox, is staying with her grandparents during the severe illness of her mother, who is in the hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Tuttle and son Hubert of 419 East Highland avenue, spent a delightful weekend resting at the desert home of the former's sister, Miss Ethel Tuttle in Victorville on the Mojave.

Mrs. Bert Lewin of 12 Bella Vista Terrace was weekend hostess to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bradshaw of Walnut Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Parker of Los Angeles, who came out to spend Sunday.

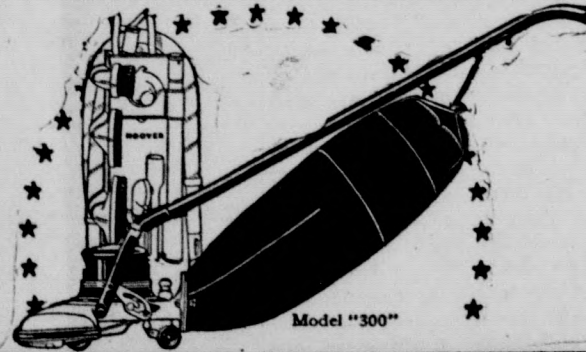

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Schwartz have moved back into their own home at 248 West Highland avenue after an absence of several months.

Mrs. F. A. Collette of Altadena, spent last Thursday with her mother, Mrs. C. E. Trimbel of 658 Mariposa avenue.

IOWANS ARRIVE TO MAKE HOME HERE

Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Hart of the Bella Vista Terrace are delighted to report the recent arrival of Mr. Hart's sister-in-law, Mrs. Alice Hart and little daughter, Doris Ann, of Ames, Iowa, who will take up their abode in Sierra Madre. They were here with Mr. Hart a couple of months last summer and his sudden passing two weeks before starting for California was a severe shock the family is slowly recovering from. Doris Ann, however, is finding happiness with her cousin, Grace Hart, who is almost the same age. She enrolled in the Sierra Madre school this week.

NOTES FROM CITY SCHOOLS

GRAMMAR SCHOOL

The older group of Camp Fire Girls had a pot-luck supper Monday at the Episcopal parish house. Each girl prepared part of the food—baked beans, salad, pickles, punch, ice cream, cake and candy.

Mrs. Everett Black, leader, was in charge of the girls. Present were Janice Strock, Mary Pulling, Jean McCullagh, Bettie Simmons, Mary Jane Clatworthy, Bettie Lou Lacey, Melna Scott, Berta Uriarte, and Miriam Coats.

—Jean McCullagh.

The 2A class has two rabbits now. The gray rabbit had six babies, but they all died. Now we have some baby chickens out in the pen and everyone is interested in watching them grow.

—Ada May Hill

One of our former Sierra Madre pupils has got to be quite an artist. He drew and painted the horse that George Washington rode in our patriotic pageant Wednesday night, March 23. This boy is Buddy Walsworth.

Tourist Boosters For This Area Announced

William Burr, Sierra Madre representative of the Southern California Edison Company has been elected a member of the advisory committee of the All-Year Club, Southern California's outstanding tourist promotion organization. A. T. Richardson, Pomona publisher was selected as general chairman of the committee and Charles F. Davis, publisher of the Monrovia News-Post as district chairman for this area.

"The council has been formed that representatives of the communities may advise with the All-Year Club officials on the best ways of making the value of the annual $216,000,000 tourist business known to all Southern California residents," Richardson announced.

Great Huntington Library's History Told Kiwanians

Lindly Bynum of Sierra Madre, field representative of the Huntington Library gave a history and its background of the famous library at San Marino at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday.

Outlining a trip through the library, he told of the treasures collected by Collis P. Huntington, how the rare manuscripts are handled from the time of their entry until they are stored in the air-conditioned vaults that preserve them against the inroads of time.

Pension Plan Is Aired At Forum

Speakers Paint Dark Picture Of Future In Urging The "California Plan"

Sherman Bainbridge and Roy G. Owens, leaders of the $30-Every-Thurs day or California Pension Plan appeared at the Sierra Madre Forum Tuesday and believed they should be supported instead of the rival $25-Every-Monday and the $200 monthly Townsend plans.

Potting his audience with a shower of picturesque phrases, Bainbridge launched into his speech then stopped short and asked them how many had bought a new suit in the past twelve months? Bainbridge's own hand was the only one aloft at the end.

Painting a dark picture of the future, Bainbridge quoted Professor Mallory of U. C. to the effect that 250,000 youths between the age of 15 and 24 are in prisons and reformatories in the United States, and that 250,000 more are bumming their way across country. This was caused, he said, because of the economic condition of their parents.

Bainbridge said that between 10,000,000 and 14,000,000,000 people are unemployed in the United States, and that authorities expect that technological advances will soon place an additional 6,000,000 in the unemployed ranks.

"But," said Bainbridge, "the faster the number of unemployed increases the sooner the government will be compelled to enact legislation such as ours."

Roy G. Owens, described as "engineer-accountant" took over the second half of the meeting by stating that "the United States is the greatest insane asylum the world ever saw." We are, he said, victims of entirely erroneous beliefs about money and how it works. He outlined the California Pension Plan as a proposition to pay everybody over 50, $30 a week for life.

Summing it all up Owens said the "California Pension Plan" was a "self-redeeming promissory note idea that has no beginning or end."

POPULAR DINING SPOT INCREASES CAPACITY

TORONTO VISITORS FIND CITY CHARMING

Dr. M. Agnes Everett of 153 Santa Anita Court was luncheon hostess at Wistaria Vine Gardens on Tuesday to her relatives; Mr. and Mrs. Rex MacDonald of Niagara Falls, Ontario, Can., who are making a two-month sojourn in Southern California. Widely-traveled, they are of the opinion that Sierra Madre is one of the few places in this fast changing country that remains charming and "unchanged." The various highlights of the metropolis have been enjoyed by them including the Warner Brothers' and other studios. They have spent many delightful days with Mrs. MacDonald's cousin, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman of Los Angeles.

GREAT PICTURES AT WASHINGTON THEATRE

Germ-Free CLEANERS
The Seal that Safe-Guards
Your Health!
Clothes cleanliness is just as vitally important as body cleanliness. Too often, people who are so fastidious about their baths, overlook the fact that the outer garments they wear day after day are GERMLADEN!
Clean clothes and good health go hand in hand. And remember, clothes are not clean until they are GERM-FREE!
MAKE it a point to have your clothes cleaned regularly . . . the GERM-FREE WAY.

MAKE HOUSECLEANING EASY WITH A HOOVER

Think of owning the finest make of cleaner—the only cleaner that has the Positive Agitation to reach and remove embedded grit—for just a single dollar bill a week!
This is our offer on the Hoover "300". On the new Model 25 and the One Fifty Cleaning Ensembles, our terms are only slightly higher.

In each you have a complete cleaning equipment; with Cleaning Tools and Handy
Cleaning Kit. The Ensembles are instantly convertible from rug to furniture cleaner.
Try any Hoover without obligation. Telephone—we'll send our Hoover representative to show you modern cleaning by Hoover Cleaners.

Banking Looks Ahead

FAITH IN THE FUTURE

in our complex economic system, the element of faith plays a tremendously important part.

Workers, farmers, housewives and business men must have faith in their banks when they bring their deposits for safekeeping.

Banks must have faith in individuals and enterprises when they advance credit. Business must have faith in the future before it will incur the risks of expansion and development.

We believe that renewed faith and sincere co-operation on the part of all classes and groups of people will carry our country to new heights of abundance and well-being.

A GOOD INVESTMENT

Painting is always a good investment. Not only do you bring new life and beauty to your property, but you also protect it from deterioration and add to its worth. Remember paint costs little compared to the value of the property it protects.

"The Painters' Paints"

When you redecorate, be sure to specify a quality finish. PITTSBURGH PAINTS, you know, are the painters' paints.

Special estimating service available. If you wish, we can recommend reliable contractors. Tell us the size of your home. We will estimate your requirements and offer you a bargain price.

"THINK OF A NUMBER..."

Sometimes it seems that prescriptions are priced with as much accuracy as guessing a number. But that isn't our method. Here is the way we do it:

We take the cost of our fresh, potent ingredients, add the time of a skilled pharmacist, plus overhead and a modest profit—a fair, honest system. Because we make a business of prescriptions, our volume is large, our costs low. We'll appreciate your prescription business!

EFFECT OF RABIES QUARANTINE

Showing concern over the sharp rise during the past two years in the number of rabid animals including dogs, cats, cows, rabbits, goats, rats, sheep and mules, Los Angeles County Health authorities are cooperating with the State in enforcement of the recently modified rabies quarantine.

Azaleas Blooming Riotously At The Coolidge Gardens

Never have the Coolidge gardens azaleas been lovelier than they are now. In the wide shaded lath houses, the azaleas, growing as if in a forest of their own, are startlingly brilliant. Every tiny branch of the thousands of plants is aflame with all the colors of the rainbow, for with all its intensity and brilliance there is no sameness to the azalea. Small wonder that last Sunday the automobiles lined the street for a half mile each way on North Foothill Blvd.

A charming feature was that the visitors looked so happy, as if they had suddenly come into an unsuspected fairyland. Everybody is welcome and there is no admission charge to these acres of gorgeous color.

Col. and Mrs. H. B. Hersey of 575 North Hermosa avenue are entertaining at dinner on Sunday in honor of their son Gale. Covers will be laid for eight.

FORMER RESIDENT DIES IN KANSAS

Word has just been received of the death of Miss Tommy Harrison at the home of her sister, Mrs. H. H. Faulders of 452 North Vassar avenue, Wichita, Kan., from a heart attack.

The Harrisons lived in Sierra Madre for 11 months at one time and made many friends while here. They have found it impossible to write to each one to acquaint them of their sad loss.

CHILD'S BIRTHDAY WISH IS GRATIFIED

Her repeated wish for a chocolate cake topped with coconut and pink candles for her birthday, was granted Lucille Coules of 475 Sturtevant Drive, on March 16, when Mrs. Victor W. Coules celebrated the natal day of her little daughter. After a series of games daintily-arranged refreshments were served the guests who included Carol and Janet Strouck, Dorothy Anthony, Mary Wilson and Margaret Coules, along with the honoree. Year-old baby Esther Coules, looked on for a few minutes.

THIS BIRTHDAY PARTY YOUNGSTERS WON'T FORGET

If you hear a group of very young people chortling with glee this week it is that merry red and white birthday party given by Mrs. Charles A. Henrotin in honor of the seventh birthday of her son, Master Mac Henrotin on Saturday afternoon at their new home in 777 Woodland Drive, that is being discussed. The little guests included Shirley Fite, Michael Suman, David Parr, Happy Heasley, Ann and Evelyn Knoblaugh and Bradley Perrine of Santa Anita Oaks.

GUESTS FROM PERU ARE ENTERTAINED HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Thompson of North Hermosa avenue, entertained Peruvian guests at dinner last Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. William Sherer, who have been doing constructive work as missionaries in Iquitos, Peru, and have come to this country on a furlough. They showed an extensive collection of rare pictures at the Thompson home on Friday.

A prettily-appointed bridge-luncheon was given Friday by Mrs. Herman M. Selk of 119 East Highland avenue in honor of her sister, Mrs. Donald Boettner of Santa Barbara, who was visiting in the Southland.
